Enemy Forces Now Hold Vaden While Roumanian Town of Galatz is Under the Fire of the Bulgarian Artillery

Russians Make Vigorous Attempts to Dislodge Enemy, But These Are Unsuccessful According to Report From Berlin—Russians Also Take Offensive on Lower Seraf and Near Moldavian Frontier. Attacks on Riga Front Appear to Have Died Down.

The enemy is now in full control of Vaden, six miles southwest of Galatz, Roumania, and Galatz is under the fire of the Bulgarian artillery from the right bank of the Danube.

After the occupation of Vaden, which was the last town south of the Sereth held by the Russians and Roumanians, the Russians made a vigorous attack in an attempt to dislodge the Bulgarians, but were repulsed, put the Bulgarians back, according to Berlin, which also reports the repulse of Russian offensives near Fundeni, on the lower Seraf, and between the Kasino and Sughita rivers, near the Moldavian frontier.

Petrograd takes issue with the German report as regards the Kishinov front, saying the Roumanians have forced back the invaders and that also heavy casualties were inflicted on them in attacks northeast of Fokshan.

The Russian offensive in the Riga region of Russia having abated to such slight proportions that neither the Russian nor German official communications deal with it, Roumania continues to be the only theatre where vigorous operations are in progress.

"A party of our troops entered the enemy's trench system and inflicted on the enemy, his dugouts were bombed and some prisoners secured."

"North of the Aisne an enemy trench system was captured by our artillery."

"According to the usual routine, activity along our front the enemy's positions were effectively bombarded, so that the British and American divisions were driven back after a spirited combat with grenades."

"On the Somme, we carried out several surprise attacks on the enemy, lines taking material and prisoners."

PARTY GOES NORTH TO START WORK THIS WEEK ON A MILLION DOLLAR BRIDGE AT PEACE RIVER

Material Being Shipped to North—Contract is Not to be Let as Anticipated, But Railroads Complete Will Do the Work by Day Labor—Agitation is in Progress For Traffic Deck on Bridge.

The northbound train on the E.D. & B.C. had a businesslike appearance when it pulled out last night. The bags were well packed and the doors with rents, blankets and camping gear and for caps, who made up a majority of tourists, were all gone. The campsite was the camp ready for the working crew, and the men were at work on what will be started this week. D. C. McPherson, of Quebec, and McPherson's son, who was in charge of the gang, J. R. C. McPherson, a member of the family, said the new bridge, was also the train, Mr. MacPherson says he is going to estimate the cost of building in trying to make building in erecting the structures.

The bridge would be started this week, was expected by the E.D. & B.C. Building yard, W. Rathbone Smith, the general manager of the E.D. & B.C., who has just returned from Winnipeg, where he was engaged in negotiations concerning the building that instead of letting a contract, as had been done, he had decided to do the work himself.

"I can assure you," said Mr. Smith, "that the work will be started right away. Some material has already been shipped and I expect we will get up an soon as possible."

Some idea of the magnitude of the operations may be gained from the

The statement says: "Operations on the Tigris front have been hampered by the longed condition of the country. Our cavalry on January 10 occupied a town on the Shatt-el-Hai. Our artillerists and M.C. carriers, one of which contained troops from

"During January 11, 12 and 13, we made a series of attacks on the Tigris east and west of Kuf-el-Amara, and took the latter. We captured the machine guns and other materials."

Edward Michener, of Red Deer, president of the Canadian Alberta legislature, is in the city to speak before the session.

"How long is the session going to last?" asked the Bulletin. "The government has no definite information on the activation of the opposition."

"Tell me whether there is no definite date when the session will be adjourned," he replied.

"And I will answer the question."

A dispatch from London two days later said the reply was not yet received. It was reported that Greece would be informed that, although more definite assurances were given, the capture of the Verona prisoners, whose release was demanded by the Greeks, was still to be obtained.

The Norwegian King says it is hard for neutrals to keep out of the war. On the contrary, it is so easy to keep out that some of them cannot make up their minds to get in whatever the Huns do to them.

Calgary Herald: "According to Commissioner Davidson's report, ex-Premier McBride may rightly be termed the savior of the Canadian Pacific coast cities, which were in danger of attack when Sir Richard Bond was in command. In other words, there was need of a Canadian squadron in the Pacific when war broke upon us."

It took forty days and almost nothing to get Germany to concede the Allies' demands, and then he conceded them with certain stipulations. It is lucky for Constantine that he is dealing with the Allies and not the Huns. And it would be better for the Allies if he had been dealt with after the manner of the power he is trying to hold within world mastery.

Anyone harboring the delusion that Germany feels itself to be beaten and is ready to accept terms required by its enemies will be disappointed. The world should read the Kaiser's message to his people regarding the Entente reply. It is a call to arms to achieve "full victory." In fact its one suggests that Berlin's demands were simply to draw a refusal from the Allies—which could be used to stir up the patriotic fervor of the German people to fresh sacrifices and prolonged hardship. Germany must really expect to win the war or they are afraid of the consequences to themselves if defeat comes, and are bound to stay the evil day as long as possible. In either event it will take all the resources and resources of the Allies to win.

The British Government has fixed the maximum prices that may be charged for stable articles of food. That is the only consistent course for a Government which undertakes to control labor and the price of food. People must live, and if the family income is fixed by action of Government the cost of supporting the family should also be determined by the same authority. In proportion to the wage. It is one of the causes of dissatisfaction with the Canadian National Service scheme that while men are asked to pledge themselves to work during the war for the welfare of the state, there is no guarantee given that the cost of living will not be allowed to go on increasing until the income is insufficient to meet the ordinary needs of the household. The proposal is so obviously fair as to argue the expediency of the scheme. Men cannot be blamed if they refuse to put their families at the mercy of price boasters while tying themselves up in service to profiteers.

Sir Thomas White may take it that he is no more anxious for the public to save their money than they are for him to adopt the same excellent maxim.

Powder factories do occasionally blow up by accident, sometimes even in times of peace. But when New England factories start blowing up at the rate of one per day, it looks like a continuation of war. That is what Berlin is doing in its propaganda to establish "peace" under the auspices of the Prussian eagle.

London parks are to be ploughed up and planted to vegetables, an indication, surely, of the gravity of the food supply in England. Having established the precedent of seizing wheat for less than its value, the Canadian Dominion Government might take over a few million bushels direct from the farmers and turn it over to the British Government without any intermediary proceeding.

Edmonton people broke all previous records in paying up their phone bills during the discontent period for the present quarter. They are not alone. It is evident that many were disengaged, and brought tales of loss to town that implies the complete loss of the sea-son's catch unless something could be done.

During the last four weeks this evil has not been felt, and the trappers are again at work. It is to be hoped that this now promises to be the best season for trapping. The quantity of beaver are among the best ever seen. The men who took part in the season attacked the animals in the traps and toro, them to be skinned and sold. Some of them to have taken the opportunity given by the opening up of the beaver season to sell their pelts at a profit. Some of them made fine money and valuable.

Bulletin Correspondence.

Peace River, Jan. 12.—The trappers are bringing furs to town in great numbers, and the market is very active and some are of great value. It was thought that the year would be excellent for trapping, but the weather was good, many furs would be ruined.

During the winter the men who are getting to realize how many cents there are in a dollar, and that the way to have dollars is to save the cents. When people discount their bills it is a sign that they have the money with which to do it, but also that they are not losing any opportunity to save.

Some weeks ago it was announced that the strike at the coal mines in Alberta had been settled, at least settled temporarily, pending a Government inquiry into the cost of living in that district. The latest news is that of an official statement of the cost issued in Ottawa, suggesting that the Government may have to take over the mines in order to get them operated. That disposed of the supposition that the trouble had been comprehended in the cost of living.

That the trouble had been comprehended in the cost of living is a fact.

HARD Fought Game Yesterday
Afternoon at the South Side
Rink

A very exciting hockey game was played yesterday afternoon at the South Side Rink between the Mc'Dougall and the Victoria High schools, with the Mc'Dougall winning by a score of 4 to 3.

The first period was very fast, both teams going at top speed. Victoria had the second period, Mc'Dougall showed their good form, Mc'Dougall easily won the third period, and the victory only secured once. In the final period it was Victoria who scored, securing a three-all tie.

However, in this period, Mc'Dougall showed their form. The Grade Nine simply made short work after running up the score.

For the Mc'Dougall, Driscoll, a featherweight, was the pick twice. Hamlin and McDonald got one each.

There is a new edition of the popular edition of Cyclone Taylor.

Mc'Dougall's hard-fought game for Victoria, while both Hall and Driscoll put up good games in the net, nothing could be said of the other counters.
